Multilingual STEM Graduate Students' Writing-Related Transfer Experience

SEEKING VOLUNTEERS FOR A RESEARCH STUDY

The purpose of this research study is to examine writing-related transfer processes and mechanisms of international STEM graduate students by tracing their complex and socially situated writing and transfer activities.

To participate in this research, you must:

- Be a STEM (masters or doctoral) graduate student at OSU from an East Asian country
- Either carry out at least some writing tasks in your courses or outside of your courses (e.g., conference proceeding, journal publication, thesis/dissertation proposal, grant proposal, candidacy exam)

Your time commitment to this study would involve:

- A maximum of 30 mins of background survey
- Five mins of annotations on each page of a writing task
- Eight to ten biweekly two-hour interviews via Zoom
- $20 compensation for each interview participation
